

Dermot O'Gorman

Chief Executive Officer, WWF-Australia

As CEO of WWF-Australia since 2010, Dermot O'Gorman brings more than 20 years of conservation experience to the role.

Dermot grew up on the NSW South Coast and started by working as a ranger. Since then he takes a big picture approach to conservation, actively engaging with community groups, businesses and international organisations to work towards a healthier planet.

From Australia to China, Fiji, the UK and Switzerland, Dermot has worked on projects that aim to create a world where humans live in greater harmony with nature.
